If you are the original purchaser and you complete your return to us or the authorized Cisco reseller from whom you acquired the SDK within thirty (30) days of receipt, you may request a full refund of shipping and handling costs you may have incurred.

1.0 DEFINITIONS.
1.1 "Cisco Software Development Kit" or "SDK" means Cisco and its licensors’ technology, which may include object code, software libraries, application programming interfaces ("API"), software tools, sample source code, published specifications and Documentation. SDK shall include any future, updated or otherwise modified version(s) thereof furnished by Cisco (in its sole discretion) to Licensee.

1.2 "Documentation" includes, but is not limited to programmer guides, CDs, manuals, materials, and information appropriate or necessary for use in connection with the SDK.

2.0 LICENSE GRANT.
2.1 SDK License.
A. Cisco hereby grants Licensee a limited, non-exclusive, non-transferable, royalty free, revocable license (without the right to sublicense) to use the SDK solely for the purpose of Licensee's internal development efforts to develop applications to work in conjunction with the Cisco products referenced in the SDK and for which the SDK was provided.
B. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 2.1.A above, Licensee shall have no right to distribute, license (whether or not through multiple tiers) or otherwise transfer the SDK to any third party or incorporate the SDK in any software, product, or technology.
C. Licensee agrees that it is licensed to use the SDK only in connection with the Cisco products referenced in the SDK and for which the SDK was provided (and if applicable, in connection with services provided under the Cisco Developer Support Program Agreement). In the event of any conflict between the terms and conditions of this Agreement and the Cisco Developer Support Program Agreement, the terms and conditions of the Cisco Developer Support Program Agreement shall prevail.

2.2 Licensee may copy the SDK only as necessary to exercise its rights here under; provided, however that Licensee may also make one (1) copy for back-up purposes and any reproduction of the SDK (including derivatives thereof), either in whole or in part, shall include the Cisco copyright notice that was provided in the SDK.

2.3 Use Restrictions. Licensee shall have no rights to any source code for any of the software in the SDK, except for the explicit rights to use the source code as provided to Licensee hereunder. Licensee agrees that it shall not cause or permit the disassembly, decompilation or reverse engineering of the software. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, Licensee shall not: (a) use the SDK to perform any activity which is or may be, directly or indirectly, unlawful, harmful, threatening, abusive, harassing, tortuous, or defamatory, nor to perform any activity which breaches the rights of any third party; (b) take any actions that would cause the SDK to become subject to any open source or quasi-open source license agreement not otherwise applicable; or (c) transfer the SDK or its license rights under this Agreement, in whole or in part.

2.4 Licensee acknowledges that effective utilization of the SDK may require the use of a development tool, compiler and other software and technology of third parties. Licensee is solely responsible for procuring such third party software and technology and the necessary licenses for the use thereof.

2.5 U.S Government End Users. The SDK is a "commercial item" as that term is defined at 48 C.F.R. 2.101, consisting of "commercial computer software" and “commercial computer software documentation" as such items are used in 48 C.F.R. 12.212. Nothing herein shall be deemed to authorize Licensee to use Cisco's or Cisco’s licensor’s trademarks or trade names in Licensee's advertising, marketing, promotional, sales or related materials. Cisco reserves all rights not otherwise expressly granted in this Section 2.

2.7 Nonassertion By Licensee. Licensee agrees not to assert any patent rights related to the SDK or applications developed using the SDK against Cisco, Cisco's distributors, Cisco’s licensors, Cisco customers, or other licensees of the SDK for making, using, selling, offering for sale, or importing any products or technology developed using the SDK.

Cisco shall have the exclusive right to apply for or register any patents, mask work rights, copyrights, and such other proprietary protections with respect thereto. Licensee acknowledges that the license granted under this Agreement does not provide Licensee with title or ownership to the SDK, but only a right of limited use under the terms and conditions of this Agreement. Licensee agrees not to use the SDK in any way which might endanger Cisco’s or its licensor’s ownership thereof.
